

Petro Data Miner Area/State Availability

Shown in orange are the states in which we have access to all of the pertinent well and production data.

Shown in green are the states we have data access to and are in process of integrating into the PDM database.

We are continually striving to improve the geographic availability of our data with new states being added frequently.

